An Introduction to the Gospel of Luke

The Author

Of all Biblical writers, Luke was probably the only Gentile. Thought to have been converted at Antioch, Luke was a well-trained Greek. He is referred to in Colossians 4:14 as “the beloved physician.”

Not satisfied with the partial accounts which were circulating about the life and work of Jesus, Luke determined to write an orderly, detailed account of the facts believed by the early Christians.

He also wrote the book of Acts. The “we” and “they” passages in that book indicate that Luke was often present with the apostle Paul in his travels. He joined Paul at Troas (16:10). He remained at Philippi when Paul traveled on (18:22). He was later found in Asia Minor (19:1-41). He rejoined Paul at a later time and accompanied him to Jerusalem. He was with Paul in Rome at the close of Paul’s life (2 Timothy 4:11).

The Message of the Book

The purpose of the book of Luke is stated in 1:4. Even though the original design of it was to confirm to an individual, Theophilus, the facts about Jesus, surely Luke knew that his book was intended for a much larger audience.

Luke presents the humanity of Jesus—that He was a blending of the Son of Man with the Son of God. He demonstrates Christ to be the perfect man but does not minimize His deity.

Some Exclusive Things in the Book

Of the three synoptic writers (Matthew, Mark and Luke), Luke has the most distinctive material. Over fifty percent of its content is exclusive whereas Matthew has about forty percent and Mark only ten.

Parables. The two debtors (7:41-43); the good Samaritan (10:25-37); the friend at midnight (11:5-8); the rich fool (12:16-21); the watchful servants (12:35-48); the barren fig tree (13:6-9); the chief seats at the wedding feast (14:7-11); the great supper (14:15-24); the builder who did not finish (14:28-30); the king who sought counsel (14:31-32); the lost coin (15:8-10); the prodigal son (15:11-32); the clever steward (16:1-13); the unprofitable servants (17:7-10); the widow and the judge (18:1-8); the Pharisee and publican (18:9-14); and the servants and the pounds (19:11-27).

Miracles. The catch of fish (5:1-11); the raising of the widow’s son at Nain (7:11-18); the healing of the woman with an 18 year old spirit of infirmity (13:10-17); the healing of a man who had dropsy (14:1-6); the cleansing of the ten lepers (17:11-19); and the restoration of Malchus’ ear which had been cut off by Peter (22:50-51).

Special Considerations in the Book

The Holy Spirit is stressed in the book of Luke. John the Baptist, Mary, Zacharias, Elizabeth, Simeon and the apostles are all empowered by the Holy Spirit. Luke also emphasizes the work of the Holy Spirit in the life of Jesus.

Certain classes of people receive special attention in Luke. Women, mentioned some 43 times in the book, children, and the poor and oppressed are but a few of the classes of people which are emphasized.

The prayer life of Jesus is also emphasized in this gospel. This is not surprising since it is a mark of that which is stressed by Luke—the humanity of Jesus. Jesus is shown to be praying or in prayer at least thirteen times.
